1 Hampstead Summer Fair

Angela : The fair will be on 30 June with the closure of Heath Street. CCC has been asked to organise small rides. Action: John to speak Stephen Taylor about possible short local rides . Angela would coordinate the CCC stall

3 Junctions Review

Jean: At a meeting between Camden Council and TfL, it was recognised that TfL review process could be improved by involving councils at an earlier stage, e.g. before and at the Design Review Group (DRG). TfL currently consult with LCC before the DRG but often go right to consultation before involving the local council. Swiss Cottage roundabout has been reviewed twice and it is being prioritised and Camden is involved. Camden will be designing two of the junctions for TfL (Camden Road/Royal College Street and Cobden junction)

4 Planning for AGM.

Cllr Phil Jones (Camden Cabinet member for Sustainability) has been invited as a speaker. Action: Jean to contact Phil Jones to confirm his attendance Need to publicise event. Action Stefano to send email about his intention to step down from the role of joint coordinator and invite nominations.

We were joined by David Thomas and Ben Edmonds

7) The Mayor's Cycling Strategy for London

Jean gave a presentation on the mayor's new cycling strategy. Here are some of the highlights and points of discussion.

- The position of Boris Johnson, Peter Henry were summarised
- Camden's Royal College street new plan is used as a positive example at the beginning of the strategy document
- David commented that although the committed money is not enough, the positive aspect of the strategy is that it is not about cycle promotion, but it is about providing space to enable cycling. The concept of segregation on the network of main roads is finally being accepted.
- Other positive comments about the strategy: improved junctions, higher grade super cycle highway
- The expansion of cycle hire was questioned, but cost benefit analysis considered positive.
- 'Quiet ways' (cycle routes through green spaces and quiet roads) were considered useful if permeability is also part of the scheme (i.e. maintaining direct lines of travel)
- HGV policy is included which reduces the need for the LCC campaign
- Overall it was felt that it was a promising plan. Jean was thanked for summarising the strategy which allowed the group to be more prepared for the April's meeting when Andrew Gilligan, the cycling commissioner for London will present the Mayor's Strategy.
