

Camden Cyclists News: August 2019

from the Camden group of London Cycling Campaign

Dear Member,

Our latest news

The tracks on Royal College Street have evolved considerably over the past five years. The original scheme had planters and armadillos, then white lines were added. These planters were rather vulnerable to passing cars and have now been replaced with granite setts, which should be more durable and afford better protection for cyclists. This work is now nearly complete.

Jean has analysed 5 years of the operation of the cycle counter on Royal College Street. The numbers show a steady increase, with lulls in the winter and in August
